

OUR MISSION

To inspire learning through student directed projects, service experiences, and the application of 21st century skills.

OUR VALUES

- Empower students to reach their innate intellectual, creative and leadership potential.
- Prepare students academically and socially to make positive contributions to an ever changing global society.
- Engage students in learning outside of school walls through authentic experiences.
- Promote student, family and community engagement.

School of Options and Applied Research (SOAR) Middle School

Public (Tuition-free) Charter School
Welcoming students in grades 5-8
Part of the Northland Pines School District

What We Offer

PROJECT BASED LEARNING

The Project Based Learning instructional methodology at SOAR encourages students to learn and apply academic content and skill through the development of well designed projects. At SOAR, students learn how to apply knowledge to the real world and use it to solve problems, answer complex questions, and create high-quality products.

21ST CENTURY LEARNING

A successful student at SOAR has a willingness to be responsible for their own learning. They also work collaboratively in order to learn from their peers. Flexibility, communication, and the ability to view things from diverse perspectives are skills that will lead to a child's success at SOAR.

Is SOAR Middle School a good fit for you?

- Multi-age classrooms
- Project-Based Learning
- Research skills applied
- Mentoring and independent study
- Service in the Community
- Hands on

Current Northland Pines area students, open-enrolled individuals, and home-schooled students are eligible to attend SOAR Charter Middle School.

Students are able to demonstrate their knowledge in and out of the school building.

Advisors provide multiple opportunities for learning including hands-on explorations, focus seminars, field studies, and guided book clubs. This allows the students, families and advisors the ability to tailor an educational experience unique to each student.

Students are encouraged to participate in all district organized sports and extracurricular opportunities while attending SOAR MS.
